

The golfer's GolfBox - NEW and MODERN - but otherwise the same!

For you, the player who is used to using GolfBox, we have now developed a new and modern version of the user interface, with new technology and scalable to all devices, both landscape and portrait.

The functions are the same. No new ones have been developed. But the experience is new and modern and the technology behind it is new.

The new technology makes it easier to add, change and adapt new features in the future.

The new user interface will eventually replace the existing App in most areas, and the reporting of scores will, for example, use the same technology that is already known from the tournament module.

We also plan to improve electronic scorecards to include electronic signatures for marker and player. In connection with confirmation of tee times, you will be offered the opportunity to receive a scorecard, in electronic form, on your mobile.

We hope that you, as a user of GolfBox, will welcome the new user interface.

Remember: Don't worry - everything is the same, just modern, and scalable, so it fits all devices, both landscape and portrait.
